Centre Cares Financial Assistance

The Centre welcomes everyone who wishes to participate in programs and activities. We are committed to making that possible and provide financial assistance through our Centre Cares program. Please let us know if we may serve you or your family in this way. For more information please contact Connie Nelson, Membership Specialist, at cnelson@nracentre.com or 715-246-2252.

Weapons and Firearms

No weapons or firearms allowed in the building UNDER § 943.13 WISCONSIN STATUTE.

Program Registration Guidelines

- Registration can be completed online or at the Centre. Payment is required at time of registration.
- No refunds or credits will be given after the registration deadline.
- There are NO REFUNDS for classes missed in any program.
- To maintain the Centre Member rate for any program or service the person enrolled MUST be a member for the entire time the program is running. If you discontinue your membership with the Centre you will be asked to pay the Community Participant rate for the entire class. No prorated amounts will apply.
- Classes need a minimum level of participation to run. Sign up early to help ensure that all classes offered are able to run. The Centre reserves the right to cancel a class prior to the start of a session.

Cell Phone, Camera, & Recording Device Policy

The Centre is committed to providing a comfortable and safe environment for all members and guests. We restrict cell phone use to our main lobby. Cameras and video recording devices, including cell phone cameras, are prohibited within the Centre except for approved special events. At no time will the use of cameras or cell phones be allowed in the locker rooms. Cell phones for the purpose of streaming music while in the fitness center is allowed.

More Than a Gym: Why the New Richmond Area Centre Will Always Feel Like Home

To me, the New Richmond Area Centre isn't just a gym—it's a community within our community. In many ways, it feels like home.

My story with the Centre didn't begin when I became an instructor. It began decades earlier, before it was even known as the New Richmond Area Centre. Back before it was Friday's Aquatics Centre, it was simply part of my childhood.

As an elementary-aged kid, summers meant day camp. We spent hours at Citizens Field playing kickball, freeze tag, and just about every game imaginable. The old armory next door seemed huge and intimidating to a little kid. Looking back, it's funny how things that once seemed scary eventually become familiar.

I was also lucky enough to be one of the last kids to truly experience Mary's Park before it changed forever. Anyone who grew up here probably remembers it. There was the swimming pool that was so cold you got a glimpse of what the Titanic must have felt like. The metal slides were so hot they taught you to behave unless you wanted to prepare for eternity in hell. The merry-go-round spun fast enough to leave you dizzy for hours, and the legendary fun house wheel challenged you to jump over missing boards while avoiding splinters and twisted ankles. Those were the good old days.

Eventually, those days came to an end. The pool closed. The fun house disappeared. The park changed.

Thankfully, the Friday family had built the community pool, because otherwise my awkward middle school years would have been a lot less exciting.

There was nothing quite like finally living "in town" and being able to walk to the pool with your friends. At the time, that was everything.

As I entered high school, my visits to the Centre (I believe it was the YMCA at this point) became less frequent. I'd stop in with friends to work out once in a while, but I wasn't what you'd call an active member.

Life brought me back.

In my twenties, my oldest son celebrated birthday parties in the upstairs party rooms. We spent countless hours bringing him to youth programs and activities. Later, when my youngest was preschool age, I was working as a Realtor from home, which allowed us to enroll him in the Centre's 3K and 4K programs. It was a blessing to have the flexibility to take our boys to school and activities ourselves instead of relying on daycare transportation.

Then the economy shifted.

Like many families, ours experienced uncertainty. The Centre became more than a place we visited—it became a place that supported us. I was hired as part of the evening cleaning crew.

I'll be honest...it wasn't my favorite job. People can be messy, and I discovered I wasn't very good at saying "no" when coworkers needed their shifts covered. But that experience gave me an incredible appreciation for our cleaning and maintenance staff. They do far more than most people ever realize, and the work they do keeps the Centre running every single day.

Even after that chapter ended, our family continued spending time at the Centre. My boys attended programs, participated in activities, and looked forward to Up All Nites with their friends.

My own attendance, though, still came and went.

I'd get into a routine with BodyPump, Zumba, or meeting a friend to ride the bikes or walk on the treadmill, but consistency always seemed to slip away.

That finally changed in my mid-thirties.

I stopped waiting for workout partners and simply started showing up for myself. If friends could join me, great. If not, I'd work out anyway. I found consistency lifting weights and doing cardio. I even joined another gym in Hudson for its 24-hour access and specialized strength equipment. I'd lift there and spend my recovery and cardio days back at the Centre.

I was determined to become healthier.

Staff Spotlights

Maybe a little too determined. About two and a half years ago, I suffered an injury.

Oddly enough, I wasn't most afraid of the injury itself. I was terrified of losing everything I'd worked so hard to accomplish. By then, I had lost nearly 80 pounds, and I refused to let that progress disappear. I knew I needed a low-impact way to stay active while I healed.

My mom had been attending water aerobics, and I had gone a few times myself over the years. Since my doctor wanted me to avoid high-impact exercise and get rest, I decided to give it another try.

I had no idea that one decision would completely change my life.

I fell in love with water aerobics! I loved the movement. I loved starting my mornings in the pool. Most of all, I loved the people. The friendships and encouragement I found there became just as important as the exercise itself.

Eventually my doctor cleared me to return to lifting and my previous workouts, but by then I couldn't imagine giving up my pool family.

Then one morning I arrived for class and there wasn't an instructor.

No substitute had been found.

It happened again.

And again.

I remember thinking, "I live nearby...I could help."

I started researching what it would take to become certified so I could substitute when needed. While I was earning my certifications, one of the Centre's longtime instructors decided it was finally her time to retire.

Sometimes doors open exactly when they're supposed to.

Before long, I had my own regular water aerobics class. Soon I was teaching four mornings each week, every other Saturday, and happily filling in whenever I was needed. Before long, I also began substituting for land fitness classes.

I loved every minute of it.

Honestly, if I could spend all day at the Centre, I probably would.

As staffing needs changed again, I transitioned from my regular pool classes into land fitness. It never mattered to me whether I was in the pool or in the fitness room. I truly believe God was placing me exactly where I was needed. My purpose isn't tied to a location—it is about encouraging others to move, become healthier, and enjoy fitness.

Today I teach land fitness several days each week, I will be teaching in the pool again, and will continue to substitute whenever I can. I take volunteer opportunities as they arise and I am able as well.

The people keep me coming back!

Every morning I look forward to seeing what I affectionately call "The Breakfast Club" gathered around the front tables. I love getting to know the members in my classes. Many of them have become like extended family.

One of my favorite parts is seeing those familiar faces outside the Centre—at the grocery store, church, the farmers market, or around town. Those moments remind me that what we've built here extends far beyond these walls.

That's what makes the New Richmond Area Centre different.

It isn't simply a place to lift weights, swim laps, or attend a fitness class. It isn't just another 24-hour gym, bodybuilding facility, yoga studio, or HIIT training center.

It's a place where people of every age and every stage of life belong.

It's where lifelong friendships are formed, where neighbors become family, where children grow into adults and someday bring their own children through the same doors.

I've watched the Centre evolve throughout every stage of my life, and in many ways, it has helped shape who I am today.

For me, the New Richmond Area Centre will always be more than a gym.

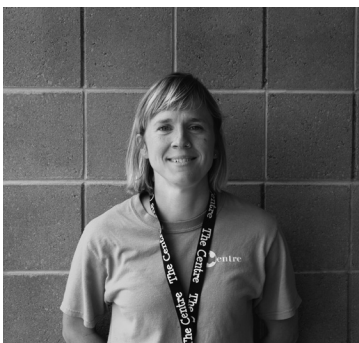

It is family.

It is community.

It is home.

Staff Spotlight: Lillian

Lillian grew up in Lakeville, Minnesota, in a blended family that is very close—and very loud! Her family has played a big role in shaping who she is today. Her friends would describe her as goofy, while her family would say she has strong “oldest daughter” traits and is naturally a leader. Her kids might describe her as the strict parent, and her husband would probably tell her that she needs to relax a little more.

Most of all, Lillian describes herself as a Christian, a singer, a passionate runner, and someone who cares deeply about others.

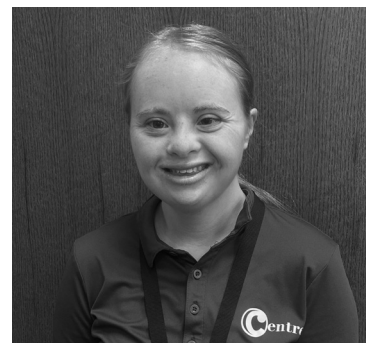

When Lillian first applied to work at The Centre, her goal was simple: she wanted to work at the gym to support her kids while spending time in a place she already loved. But once she became part of The Centre, that purpose grew into something much more meaningful. Today, Lillian works here because she feels like she is part of a community. To her, The Centre is more than a place to work out—it is a family, and she and her children are part of it. It is a place where she feels welcomed, accepted, and valued.

Lillian has had many meaningful experiences at The Centre. While working out, Larry L. once told her that she was his role model. She has completed some of her best marathon training on our treadmills, with Pam O. cheering her on along the way. Her child learned to float on both their back and stomach through our swim lessons. Her children have also made friendships at The Centre that have continued beyond our walls, with those friendships growing into playdates and sports together.

Lillian also appreciates the relationships and trust she has built with the people around her. She loves that members know her well enough to trust her and that staff have been patient and supportive as she has learned and grown in her role. She appreciates the support she has received from the entire team.

Lillian is grateful to be part of The Centre family and is excited that she gets to continue being a part of it. What started as a job to support her family has become something much more—a place where she, her children, and the people around her feel connected, supported, and at home.

Staff Spotlight: Kylee

When asked why she works at The Centre, Kylee’s response was quick and decisive: “I love to clean!” Her passion for cleaning started at home, where she enjoyed helping around the house. She later put that passion to work at St. Croix Central Elementary School before joining The Centre.

Kylee is also a Special Olympics athlete and participates in a variety of sports, with basketball being her favorite. She plays point guard and enjoys watching Steph Curry, admiring his style of play.

Outside of work, Kylee loves spending time outdoors and going boating. She also enjoys watching Jeopardy! She has three younger sisters and one older brother.

Kylee enjoys working at The Centre because of the welcoming community, the clean environment, and the opportunity to meet new people and coworkers. She takes great pride in her work and brings genuine enthusiasm to everything she does.

With her passion for cleaning and positive attitude, Kylee hopes to be part of The Centre community for many years to come.

Individual Personal Training

47290

To take your training to the next level, work one-on-one with one of our personal trainers. They will conduct a personal consultation and a fitness assessment to aid in the design of your program. They will also help you set realistic goals based on your fitness level and interests. Start with a consultation and begin the road to meeting your health and wellness goals.

Personal Consultation

- Meet one-on-one with a Centre Personal Trainer for 30 minutes.
- Discuss your fitness, nutrition, and wellness goals; learn more about the services that will help you meet these goals.

Fitness Assessment

- Meet one-on-one with a Centre Personal Trainer for 30 minutes.
- Get an assessment of your current physical state so you can measure progress as you work toward your goals.
- Establish a fitness baseline to monitor progress and establish goals.

Independent Program Design

47290

A fitness trainer will design a workout program to meet your personal needs. The program design plan includes:

- A personal consultation and fitness assessment.
- 4 week program
- A 15 minute in-person session every two weeks to evaluate progress and goals.

This is ideal for intermediate and advanced exercisers, busy people with constant schedule challenges, or those with very specific goals such as marathon, triathlon, powerlifting, and weight loss. It is also a great add-on option for someone who is already working with one of our personal trainers but wants specific workouts during the rest of the week.

Due to the complexity of many strength-training and conditioning programs, novice exercisers should begin with a hands-on trainer. Must be 16 years or older and a Centre Member.

Packages	Price
4 week program	$64.00
8 week program	$118.00
12 week program	$162.00

Sports

Pickleball

YCI: After School Hangout

47222

Our after-school program for children ages 7–11 provides a safe, supportive, and fun environment where kids can learn, grow, and build friendships beyond the school day. Each day, students are given time to unwind, complete homework with guidance, and participate in a variety of enriching activities designed to spark creativity and curiosity.

The program includes a balanced mix of academic support, hands-on projects, physical activity, and social play. From arts and crafts and STEM challenges to team games and outdoor recreation, kids are encouraged to explore their interests while developing important life skills like teamwork, problem-solving, and confidence.

Led by caring and experienced staff, our program focuses on fostering a positive atmosphere where every participant feels included, valued, and inspired. Whether they're finishing homework, discovering a new hobby, or making new friends, students leave each day feeling accomplished and excited to return.

Swim Checks

If you're unsure about what level your swimmer should be in, it's important to place them in the appropriate class for optimal learning.

- Children under 3 years old should be registered for the Tots class.
- Children aged 3 to 4 years old should choose the Preschool class based on their comfort in the water.

Swim checks are available on Tuesday and Thursday evenings before the first swim lesson of the day. Please check the class schedule for specific times and dates. To schedule a swim check, call our Aquatics department in advance.

Centre Swim School

Centre Swim School is an innovative program designed to teach essential swimming skills to individuals of all ages. We follow a logical and consistent progression, starting with the fundamentals and culminating in endurance training for various strokes. Students will advance from one level to the next as they master the required skills.

We look forward to providing the highest quality program for you and your family.

Goggles

Children in Preschool 1 & 2 and Level 1 & 2 are advised against wearing goggles.

Cell Phone, Camera, and Recording Device Policy

Parents are permitted to bring cameras only on the last day of lessons to take pictures and/or videos during our swimmer showcase. The Centre is committed to providing a comfortable and safe environment for all members and guests. Therefore, cell phone use is restricted to the main lobby. The use of cameras and video recording devices, including cell phone cameras, is prohibited within the Centre, except for approved special events. At no time are cameras or cell phones allowed in the locker rooms.

Parent Seating

Parents are requested to sit in the bleachers while watching swim lessons. This helps swimmers and instructors maintain focus on skills.

Transfer/Cancellation Policy

Please note that our policy states that after the registration deadline, no changes to classes or refunds will be processed.

Become a Centre Member

Sign up to become a Centre Member before completing your class, and we will credit you the difference between Centre Member and Community Participant Swim School rates. This credit can be applied towards your Get Going Fee or your initial membership payment.

Open Swim

Swim school students are welcome to participate in open swim before and after their lessons. Community participants currently enrolled in Centre Swim School can swim for free during swim school hours. However, those not enrolled must purchase a day pass.

Centre Swim Tots

Age: 6 months - 3 years old (parent in water)
